

Improving English Communication and playing Golf

Throughout the world, Golf is played by leaders in the business, financial and diplomatic community and seen as an opportunity to network.

English is one of the most premium medium of communication. Now we bring together top-level training in professional communication and English language, with the etiquette, language, and practice of golf.

We are specialised in the design of individually-tailored 'English for Professional Communications' courses on a 'one-to-one' or 'small group' basis. The courses are essentially practical; they are designed to improve communicative performance in a wide range of professional, business and commercial contexts.

Our Expertpool English training and golf programmes are designed to combine focused Professional Communication training with the practice, language and etiquette of golf in the country that invented the game.

A variety of programme options are designed to suit a range of needs from the relative novice of the game to the serious player wanting to improve their social communication skills for international applications within the game.

Language and communications Training is individually tailored, and built around a detailed analysis of the client's personal and professional needs and objectives. Areas of language covered are likely to include:

- Negotiationstrategies, techniques and language for meetings, cross-cultural communication, group problem-solving and professional presentations techniques.

Expertpool's Golf programme focuses on local courses:

Offering 18 holes from par-3 to par-5. Those clubs offer full equipment rental services, a Club Professional for those wanting personal golf coaching, a totally English-speaker environment and a warm and friendly welcome to guest players in well-equipped and elegant club-houses.

Clients will be picked up by our Golf Companion, who will take them to the golf course, play the round with them, conversing in English and instructing in the areas of Golf etiquette and vocabulary. The Golf Companion will then take the client back to his/her hotel /homestay accommodation. Play will take place at one of a range of courses within approximately 30 minutes car drive from the school.
